

Using a Seizure Diary

Seizures occur away from the doctor’s office. Keeping a seizure diary can be a helpful way to:

- Keep track of each of your seizures
- Record information to share at your healthcare visits
- Identify patterns or triggers that may guide your care

If you are with someone when you have a seizure, please ask them for details to help you fill this out. You can also suggest they take a video or picture to share with your doctor.

Below is an example of an entry for one day. Callouts explain how and why to complete each section. The following page has a blank seizure diary form to get you started.

This information has been provided for your education and to improve communication with your healthcare team.

Did you take your seizure medicines?
By writing down whether you’ve taken your medicines each day, you can be sure you won’t miss a dose. Plus, it can be an effective way to spot changes in your symptoms caused by a forgotten dose.

Did you have any seizures?
Tracking the number, type, and frequency of your seizures helps your healthcare team most effectively manage your treatment. Be sure to record which type, what time your seizures occurred, how many you had, and if they were a seizure cluster. Seizure clusters are 2 or more seizures in a 24-hour period. Types of seizures include:

- Partial (focal)
- Generalized
